

Worksheet 5: Getting Started

Your aim for Scene 1 or Chapter 1 is:

To introduce your characters.

Remember your audience does not know your characters. Let the audience know who they are simply and quickly by the things they say. Remember that you don't have to have all your characters in every scene or chapter. You choose. It is best to have your main character in every scene or nearly every scene as it is their story.

Let the audience know their situation.

If you want you can bring in the Obstacle from your Cog at this stage.

Good luck with writing the rest of your story or play.
